

AIUA IRC 2006 - CERTIFICATION FORM

To be considered for AIUA Fortified Wind Resistive IRC 2006 Construction discounts, the home must have been designed and constructed in conformity with ALL construction standards and techniques as prescribed in the International Residential Code, Edition 2006 (IRC 2006).

Inspection and certification by a licensed, professional engineer attesting that the home was designed and constructed in conformity with IRC 2006 is required before any discount can be given.

The undersigned hereby attests and certifies that the residential structure situated at:

was designed and constructed in conformity with all construction standards and techniques as prescribed in the International Residential Code, Edition 2006.

Name of Licensed Professional Engineer

Signature of Licensed Professional Engineer

Date: _____

Seal of Licensed Professional Engineer